1. ROLE

The Academic Board is a sub-committee of the Morling College Board, delegated to provide academic governance. Its role is to ensure the academic activities of Morling College as a Higher Education Provider (HEP) are reputable, of high quality, comply with institutional policy requirements, deliver expected outcomes for students and that all qualifications awarded are credible for the level of qualification involved. It also makes provision for the sharing of expertise between faculties and departments within Morling College (MC), to foster the overall quality of learning, teaching and research.

Its responsibilities encompass learning, teaching, scholarship, research, research training and professional development. It is accountable to the MC Board for the development of academic strategy, the formulation of academic policy, the promotion of academic integrity, and the management of academic risk.

Morling College's academic governance is required to comply with the Higher Education Standards Framework (Threshold Standards) 2015 under the Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency Act 2011. These standards require a clear demarcation between academic and corporate governance.

2. DEFINITIONS

Key Term - Acronym	Definition
MC	Morling College
ACT	Australian College of Theology
AB	Academic Board
HEP	Higher Education Provider
TEQSA	Tertiary Education Quality Standards Agency

3. CONTEXT STATEMENT

MC is a registered Higher Education Provider (PRV12034) of accredited courses in Education, Counselling and Chaplaincy and Spiritual Care. MC also offers courses in Theology (AQF 5-10), accredited through a third-party arrangement with the Australian College of Theology (ACT). MC is also a College of the University of Divinity, offering accredited Higher Degree Research training (AQF9-10). Consequently, MC's policies will incorporate the appropriate academic requirements for each area according to the relevant accrediting authority.

Most of MC's Theology students study courses from the ACT, so academic and student policies are set by the Australian College of Theology, and these can be located at <http://www.actheology.edu.au/policies.php>.

Policies relevant to students under the University of Divinity accreditation, can be located at <http://www.divinity.edu.au>

MC academic and student policies will be set in areas for its own HEP requirements in Education, Counselling and Chaplaincy and Spiritual Care, and for relevant whole of institution HEP requirements.

The Academic Board's role primarily relates to the academic governance of courses offered by Morling as an independent HEP. It relates indirectly to courses offered under third party arrangements with other HEPs, insofar as it makes provision for the sharing of expertise between faculties and departments, to foster the quality of learning, teaching and research within MC.

The Academic Board also monitors quality indicators and academic risks for all courses offered at MC.
